TO SELL POPPIES

Rockland To Do Its Bit Saturday For Welfare and Relief Work

Poppy Day will be observed in Rockland next Saturday under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary. Blanche S. Morton, president of the local unit, has announced that the women of the Auxiliary, assisted by members of Rockland High School, will distribute poppies in the streets and receive contributions for the Auxiliary welfare and relief work among the disabled veterans and their families.

All workers distributing poppies for the Auxiliary will serve without pay or commission. Mrs. Morton explained, every penny contributed for the poppies going to the relief of needy disabled veterans and their families. The Auxiliary workers will wear distinctive badges and will carry sealed boxes into which the contributions given in exchange for the poppies will be dropped. Making of the poppies has provided employment for many disabled veterans during the winter and spring, and the funds collected will help finance the relief activities of The American Legion and Auxiliary among the disabled veterans and dependents of the dead and disabled in the city during the coming year.

DUTY IS INCREASED

Action of Tariff Commission Should Aid Our Packers of Clams

An increase in the duty on canned clams other than razor clams has been announced by the Tariff Commission with the approval of the President. It makes the imports of canned clams dutiable at 35 per cent assessed on the American selling price rather than on the foreign value. No change was made in the duty on clam chowder. The changes will become effective by Presidential proclamation May 31.

The investigation was made by the commission in response to applications received from domestic packers of canned clams requesting an increase in the duty and from foreign packers requesting a decrease.

The 35 per cent duty based on the American selling price is equivalent to 98 to 113 per cent on the foreign value. The new rates also apply to combination of clams with other substances except clam chowder.

Imports of canned clams other than razor clams are almost entirely from Japan, whose exports of this product to the United States within the last few years have become far greater than the American domestic production.

ARSON CASE ON TRIAL

Defense Began This Morning In State Versus
Edwin Ludwig—Court Nearing End

The trial of the State vs. Edwin G. Ludwig, who is charged with burning buildings to get insurance, started yesterday morning before a drawn jury, Benjamin H. Nichols, foreman. The first fire occurred Feb. 18 and the second Feb. 23.

Joseph Rhodes of 43 James street testified that Mr. Ludwig came to his house to get him to bring over his blow torch to thaw out the pipes in the house where the fires took place, at the rear of 69 North Main street, which he did. Rhodes and Ludwig were working there together thawing out the pipes. Rhodes went over into the cellar of the other house to thaw out the pipes. Shortly after he came back he noticed the fire in the garage tenement. The fire, according to Rhodes, started down under the stairs where they had not been with the blow torch.

Earl Sayward, tenant of the house at the time of the first fire, established the ownership of the building in Ludwig. Sayward stated that he burned oil in one stove and soft coal in the other. He was not home at the time the fire broke out, but he had been there about two hours previously when Mr. Rhodes and Mr. Ludwig were trying to thaw out the pipes. He testified that he had had several talks with Mr. Ludwig with regard to the fact that it was a cold tenement and Mr. Ludwig said that he could not do anything because he was short of money.

Fire Chief Havener stated that he found two or three cans that had contained kerosene, and that the fire was entirely inside of the building, excepting where it broke out through once or twice. This was the second fire.

Patrolman Carl Christofferson testified to taking the hose in the window and that the odor of kerosene was very evident.

Mrs. Carl Christofferson testified to seeing a light in the garage at 11:30 that night.

Chester Black stated that he put his car in the Ludwig garage at about 10 p. m. that night and that the walls and floor were still damp from the wetting they received during the fire of Feb. 18.

Mrs. Chester Black stated that Mr. Ludwig had called her attention to the fact that the first fire started in another part of the building than where they were thawing out the pipes.

Woodbury Fales and Frank Halliwell testified to discovering the second fire and ringing the alarm. They also stated that they smelled burning oil.

Fred Cheyne and O. B. Brown of the Central Fire Station testified about getting the Black car out of the garage and the hour of the fires. Mrs. Gladys Philbrick stated that she was going up North Main street on the night of Feb. 22 between 11:30 and 11:45. That she saw lights in the Ludwig garage and thought it strange. She stated she smelled fuel oil. On cross examination Mrs. Philbrick stated that she had smelled this odor on other damp days.

Mrs. Ruth L. Perry said she saw the flames burst out in the northeast corner of the garage. She saw Mr. Ludwig standing on his back door step just after the fire alarm was rung and he asked someone where the fire was. Just before 5 a. m. Feb. 23 she saw Mr. Ludwig attempting to empty a barrel. After three or four attempts he did dump some ashes, masses of black substance and then more ashes. He then took the barrel back into the garage.

Lawrence Perry testified that he saw the flames burst out in the garage, that he did not detect any odor of kerosene coming in his window. He said he saw Mr. Ludwig in the back yard with the barrel but did not see the contents.

Harold Horrocks said that when he arrived home between 10:30 and 11:30 on the night of the second fire he did not see any activity around the Ludwig garage. He was out of doors during the fire but he did not detect any odor of kerosene.

Harold Bates, tenant in the Ludwig house, stated that he did not arrive home until about half an hour before the fire was over. After he arrived he did picket duty every 10 or 15 minutes between the house and garage to see if the fire was all out.

Horatio Lymburner testified to repairing furniture for Chester Black that was in the garage at the time of the fire. He said that it was covered with greasy smut.

Clarence F. Joy, agent for the Travelers Insurance Co., stated that Mr. Ludwig notified him that the building was gone. There was a policy for $2000 and in his opinion that was a proper amount.

Frank Dyer of Camden pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $150 and to serve three months in jail. The jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years.

Adelbert L. Miles of Portland was in Court Monday.

Miss Alfreda Perry is to open a modern dress shop in the immediate future at 7 Limerock street. The quarters are now in the hands of carpenters and painters for complete remodeling.

AIRPLANE CARRIER COMING

Largest Warship Ever Seen On Maine Coast
Is Due Here Tomorrow

Rockland folks will get a distant glimpse this week of a type of warship entirely new to these waters—the new airplane carrier Ranger which is due here late tomorrow afternoon and will probably have its standardization trial on the Rockland course Thursday.

The new ship, which is now speeding up the coast from Newport News, Va., is 765 feet in length and 100 feet on the beam, and cost Uncle Sam a matter of $22,000,000 which, of course, is a mere trifle, in these political alphabet days.

Capt. S. P. Cummings of the steamship President Harding was in command during the preliminary trials off the Virginia Capes, but the navigating officer in Northern waters will be our old friend Capt. Joe Kemp of Quincy, Mass., and on board will be a crew of 1100 men—shipyard employees, naval officials, etc. The builders will be represented by Vice President Roger Williams.

The trial board is headed by Rear Admiral George C. Day. Steamer Rocket of Portland will act as tender.

REMARKABLE BASEBALL PLANT

CWA Project Gives Camden Seating Facilities
Unequaled Elsewhere In Maine

Camden people are to be credited with another outstanding performance in the new seating facilities at their baseball park. The rickety old grandstand has disappeared, and in its place is a new and much larger stand. The old bleachers along the first base line and third base line have also been pushed off the map and replaced by new bleachers in the places, giving a total seating capacity that should be ample except possibly on holiday games.

The new stand and bleachers are unique in the respect that they are constructed of spruce and hemlock logs, with planned boards for seats. The same idea is followed in the players' benches where the seats are fashioned from split logs. One set of bleachers stands on massive granite piers and both have either cement or granite approaches. The appearance of the three new structures is very striking and the Sports Editor is in a position to say that there isn't another ball park in Maine that can approach Camden's as far as seating arrangements are concerned.

The new plant was made possible through a CWA project. A crew of men went into the woods, felled the trees, peeled the logs and then converted them into the necessary materials—thus furnishing work for woodsmen, teamsters and carpenters. Arthur Hatch conceived the plan and Stanton Dearborn had charge of the construction. The structures are so massive that they should last a century.

Whether you are a baseball fan or not you should visit the Camden ball park and see what the CWA workers have done.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Friends and Relatives Attend
the Last Rites For Neal
Farrell

A large group of friends and relatives gathered Sunday afternoon at the Owl's Head chapel in memory of Neal Lester Farrell, one of the trio of Owl's Head men who were lost at sea several weeks ago. Rev. L. G. Perry of the Littlefield Memorial Church, Rockland, spoke words of sympathy and appreciation. Deceased was born in Center, town of Tremont, on Jan. 17, 1888 and was educated in the West Tremont schools, graduating with high honors. He later studied with marked success, courses in contracting and building. He was largely employed as a carpenter-builder and in fishing with Capt. Arthur Bain, the later a happy association of many years terminated with the loss at sea of the smack Isabel last March.

Mr. Farrell was married Sept. 18, 1919, to Miss Annie Hickey, who survives with these children: Mrs. Olive Hall, Neal Farrell, Jr., Foster and Virginia, the latter but six years of age.

"I refused to marry Bob three months ago and he's been drinking ever since 'That's what I call carrying a celebration too far.'—Sydney Bulletin.

Johnny Chase of Waterville and Tommy Ryan of Bangor are the top-liners for Friday night's boxing exhibition at the New Athletic Club.

The former has 50 hard fight for a record and the latter claims the welterweight championship of the State. Some of the other bouts will be Young Cochran of Thomaston vs. K. O. La Mouche of Waterville; Cy-clone Hooper of Rockland vs. Zeke Hazzard of Bangor and Primo Pietroski of Rockland vs. Harold Elliott of Bangor. Pershing Hendricks, the up and coming Camden boy will face John Boardman of Rockland.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

SPRING

Again the violet of our early days
Drinks beauteous azure from the golden sun.
And kindles into fragrance at his blaze:
The streams, rejoiced that winter's work
is done,
Talk of tomorrow's cowslips, as they run.
Wild apple, thou art blushing into bloom!
Thy leaves are coming, snowy-blossomed
thorn!
Wake, buried lily! spirit, quit thy tomb!
And thou shade-loving hyacinth, be born!
Then, haste, sweet rose! sweet woodbine,
Whose dewdrops shall illumine with pearly light
Each grassy blade that thick embattled stands
From sea to sea, while daisies infinite Uplift in praise their little glowing

WIN HIGH HONOR

National Society Members Named In Rockland High School

Announcement of Rockland High School students who have won the coveted membership in the National Honor Society was made this morning by Principal Blaisdell. This selection is based on scholarship, leadership, service and character and is nation wide in scope.

The seniors are Charles Haveren, Vincent Pellicane, Ruth Gregory, Norman Stanley, Richard Thomas and Ruth Ward.

The juniors are Gertrude Heal, Donna deRochemont, Edward Heller, Edward Ladd and Virginia Leach.

Colby Commencement will mark the 50th reunion of the famous "missionary class" of 1884. Among the living members is Dudley W. Holman of Quincy, Mass., a native of Rockland. Mr. Holman is an authority in the field of insurance. He has been general manager of one of the large companies, member of the Massachusetts Industrial Accident Board, president of the International Association of Industrial Accident Boards and Commissioners, member of the United States Committee on Labor which drew up the compensation allotments and insurance laws for soldiers and sailors in the World War, and author of numerous monographs on special subjects. Probably the best known graduate of 1884 was the late Major General Herbert M. Lord. The 22 boys who received diplomas half a century ago won success in the fields of business, teaching, law, ministry, medicine, three became university professors, five went out into foreign fields as missionaries and three became newspaper editors. The band of missionaries found their careers in different parts of the Orient—Edwin P. Burt to China, John E. Cummings to Burma, John L. Dearing to Japan, Henry Kingman to North China and Benjamin F. Turner to Burma. Dr. Dearing was perhaps America's greatest missionary to Japan. The reunion of 1884 is being arranged by Dr. Charles S. Estes, educator, born at Thomaston, and now a resident of Brooklyn.

Sarah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wilson of Gray, who frequently is a visitor in the home of her aunt, Mrs. John O. Stevens, Talbot avenue, again won the championship as speller in the district contest comprising Gray, New Gloucester and Windham. Miss Wilson, who is 12 years old, and winning for the third consecutive year, goes to Portland Saturday to compete in the Cumberland County finals to determine who goes to Washington to compete in the National finals. Miss Gray will appear in the role of defending champion Saturday, as she won the county contest last year and later represented a Portland newspaper in Washington. To the winner in Washington goes a prize of $500 and two bronze plaques, one for the champion's school and one for his own personal property. Other prizes will be awarded.

A special three-cent stamp, issued as a tribute to the mothers of America, is on sale at the Postoffice, especially apropos to Mothers' Day. To the right of the center of the stamp facing the left is a reproduction of the painting by James Abbott McNeill Whistler, entitled "Portrait of My Mother." Along the top of the stamp at the left in solid Old English lettering are the words "U. S. Postage." Directly below, arranged in four lines, in solid gothic letters is the inscription "In Memory and in Honor of the Mothers of America." Underneath the inscription, in two lines, are the words "Three Cents" in solid gothic. In the lower left corner is a vase containing carnations.

Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Brooks, Mrs. H. V. Tweedie as lay delegate from the church, and Mrs. Annie Hanscom will go to Portland this afternoon to attend the sessions of the Maine Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, convening Wednesday morning and continuing until the following Monday forenoon. Several others from the local church plan to attend later in the week. Bishop Charles Wesley Burns of Boston, president of the conference, will preside.

Margia M. Tolman of Billings, Mont., a faithful reader of this newspaper, has its thanks for an interesting collection of clippings from Montana newspapers and shoots from trees and shrubs which thrive in Montana. The latter have been preserved for our noted Knox County botanist Norman W. Lermond, who is asked to call at this office and review them.

BASEBALL SPIRIT STRONG

Rockland High Hands Camden a Trouncing—The Juveniles Are In the Money

If the published schedule is followed, the school games this week will be:

Wednesday—Vinalhaven at Rockland; Thomaston at Camden; St. George at Newcastle.
Friday—Thomaston at Vinalhaven.
Saturday—Lincoln at Rockland; Camden at St. George.
(Please notify The Courier-Gazette if any changes.)

Rockland 21, Camden 5

Coach Durrell's Rockland warriors gave an excellent account of themselves in Saturday's game at Camden, defeating the home team by a lop-sided score. The wearers of the orange and black hit for a total of 19 bases, the hero of the occasion being Sam Glover, who made three singles and two doubles in seven times at bat. The Rockland lad swings from the port side, and takes a healthy cut at the ball which is going to worry many a pitcher this season. Another batting feature in this game was Cotta's long drive into right center. The ball swished through a mud puddle and the Camden boy had crossed the plate when it was returned to the infield.

Charlie Ellis worked seven innings in the Rockland box and held Camden to four hits and three runs. He gave way in the eighth to still another "Chummy" Gray, a freshman, who looks as if he might be an exceedingly good prospect when he has had a little more seasoning. Camden sent four pitchers to the mound—Boytton, Brown, Cotta and Heald, all of whom worked under the handicap of poor support.

Rockland had nine runs when it went to bat in the eighth inning, and in the spree that marked that stanza exactly doubled its score, adding three more runs in the ninth, when passes were being handed out liberally.

Both teams ran wild on the base paths. The score:

Juveniles have caught the baseball spirit, and the result was an 11-inning tie Saturday between the McLain and Tyler schools. And this is an unexpurgated account of the contest as written by one of the participants.

The star players were Barter and Butler. Barter made two runs and Butler made three runs. The game was a long game, 11 innings, and was a good one. There was a little misunderstanding when Dick Barnard slid to third and Dick Fisher tagged him. He was out really, but it was decided to let them have it. The Tyler School got the most hits. Barter did a good job for Tyler school. Butler pitched a good inning—he was the only pitcher for the 11th inning, striking out the best hitter which saved the game. John Jenkins pitched good for the other innings. The first inning was "short and sweet." Jenkins made a good double play in the first. Another game will be played at the baseball field Saturday.

Men Of The Past

Here are four brothers who constituted one of the most remarkable families in America, and with whom Knox County is proud to have been so intimately associated. The portrait in the last issue was that of Frederick J. Simonton, for many years at the head of the Simonton Dry Goods Co.

WITH THE BOWLERS

The bowling team which tackles that Gardiner outfit has a hard row to hoe, and the truth of this statement was again forced home Friday night when Rockland's candlepin champs were turned back by a 75-pin defeat. Just to show what sort of a combination that Gardiner team is, behold that third string when the visitors stacked up that remarkable total of 556 pins. High string (125) was rolled by Kearns, but high total went to R. Goggins. The score:

BURPEE'S PRESENTS A Steel Anti-Moth Wardrobe Closet $5.95

What—a steel anti-moth wardrobe closet? Of course! It's as sturdy as it is light—made of 24 gauge steel. As nice looking as it is useful—it holds 10 garments, easily. Use it in your office or your home. The door closes so firmly against special flanges that it's absolutely dust-proof and air-tight. On each wall inside is a small metal rack in which to place the moth crystals which come with each closet and make it one of the strongest moth guards we've seen. 60" high, 15" wide, 20" deep.

And they are finished in handsome walnut or mahogany to match the other furniture in the room.

The annual jamboree of Pine Tree Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held May 19 in Lewiston and Auburn. Expectation that it will be the largest attended Scout event ever held in Maine is based on the fact that Scout membership in the council is greater than ever before, and that Lewiston is a central point.

The new sensational Frigidaire "Flowing Cold" water circulating milk cooling machine which maintains automatically a level around the necks of milk cans will be on display at Temple Hall tomorrow night at the McLoon Sales & Service show "We're in the Money Now." This new cooling method will cool to the desired temperature one-half hour faster than the conventional type. The display should be of great interest to the farmers of this section—adv.

A charming addition to Main street's business establishments, Al's Hairdressing Salon, was presented to the public yesterday and met with a pleasant reception. The salon is operated in conjunction with Al's Barber Shop, the two occupying 284 and 286 Main street. The new establishment, connected with the barber shop by a convenient passageway, is modern in every respect. Walls are done in pastel green and yellow with floor and furniture to match. Several booths and a new type dryer are among the features. Miss Dorothy Rice of Waterville is in charge. She is a graduate of the Harper Method School of Rochester and has worked in New York city. At Plourde, proprietor, has specialized in women's hair cutting and the salon is a natural adjunct to his shop. Work is by appointment, phone 826.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling daughter and sister, Virginia Lee Carver, who passed away May 9, 1928. Father, Mother, Sister and Brother.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank Dr. Poppeltone for the treatment I received from him at Knox Hospital, all nurses who attended me, including my special nurse, Miss Simonson; all who gave blood for me; those who sent flowers; Dr. Woodman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dyer and all others who comforted and aided me in my time of trouble. Charles Waterman.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our thanks to our friends for their kindness and sympathy, and to all others who so kindly assisted us, and for the beautiful flowers sent during our recent bereavement. We wish especially to thank Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gardner for their kindness. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mason and Mrs. Paul Fitzpatrick.

THEY CARRIED ON

Worst Winter In Years No Bar To Rural Religious Work In Hope

The worst winter in years was merely a challenge to the people at Hope Corner who during Miss Margaret McKnight's leave of absence carried on the Sunday School she had helped them organize. Under the competent leadership of Mrs. Etta Fernald, who was helped by other busy mothers, the school was continued all winter with an average attendance of 30; a cradle roll was formed, and a home department, both with good enrollments.

Mrs. Fernald's aids were Mrs. Margie Beverage, Mrs. George Brownell, Mrs. Ellen Ludwig, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. Estelle Bartlett, teachers, and Mrs. Esther Herrick, pianist. The Grange donated its hall for the school, and the janitor, Frank F. Payson, gave his services. It can be understood with what pleasure Miss McKnight greeted this active and growing school upon her return last month. She attends their weekly sessions each Sunday morning at 10.30, having general supervision and aiding in whatever way is desired.

May 16 a Mother-and-Daughter banquet is to be held in the Grange hall. Each girl member of the Sunday school will invite her mother; and if there are several girls in a family, the extra invitations may be given to other mothers who have not daughters. Six of the girls of the school will present a beautiful candle-lighting pageant.

HER DAYS NOT IDLE

Miss Louise Walker Received 180 Cards and Letters On 89th Birthday

Miss Louise Walker, a former Rockland teacher now residing at 1275 Wesley avenue, Pasadena, Calif., celebrated her 89th birthday last December. To a friend in this city she writes:

"I had 180 letters and cards for Christmas and my birthday, and have them nearly answered. I have been in California 27½ years and for 25 years lived at 389 63rd street, Oakland. Then my niece, Mrs. Lilla Pales Mackay, came and took me to Pasadena to live with her and be taken care of, saying 'you have spent a long lifetime caring for others, now at 87 you are to be taken care of, and I am going to do it.' So here I am in my cozy, sunny room most of the time, for I am very hard of hearing and do not enjoy sitting with people who are talking and I can't know what they say. So I prefer to spend my time out of doors in the warm sunshine or sewing, reading or writing.

"I came here April 25, 1932, and since then have pieced and tacked four comforters and made, cut and sewed (threading my No. 9 needles) six garden quilts of inch size hexagons. Each of the last had a flower bed surrounded by white, and the white separated by a path of 392 tiny green diamonds. Shall have it quilted at the Circle in April or May. I made it for my grandniece, Helen Mackay, and now I'm making her sister, Prof. Dorothy Louise Mackay of Duke University, N. C., a modern silk crazy quilt for a wedding present. So you see I'm busy as ever."

At a special assembly of Rockland High School yesterday forenoon a Poppy Day program was given. Principal Blaisdell presented Blanche S. Morton, president of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, who in turn presented these numbers: Star Spangled Banner, assembly; address Lieut. Charles G. Hewett of Battery E, 240th C. A.; vocal solo, "In Flanders Field," Mrs. Carleen Nutt, with Mrs. Faith Berry as accompanist; results of the work at the poppy shop, Mrs. Anne Snow, State poppy chairman; musical recitations, Unknown Soldier and The Americans Come," Mrs. Helen Wentworth, accompanied by Mrs. Berry. Mrs. Morton thanked the school girls who worked so diligently on the poppy sale last year and expressed her confidence that they would give the same hearty co-operation again this year.

The annual concert of the Universalist Church School will be presented Friday evening at the vestry at 7.30, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Wentworth, and will be open to the public at a small fee. The program will be in two parts—Part I, Little Old Folks Concert and Part II, A Plantation Scene. In the latter Mrs. Lydia Storer, contralto, will be a colored mammy with a flock of pickaninnies around her.

WARREN

The Congregational ladies' circle will serve their monthly supper Thursday with the following committee: Mrs. Edna White, Mrs. Nancy Clark, Mrs. Adelaide Norwood, Mrs. Jessie Walker, Mrs. Nettie Vinal, Mrs. Mary Berry. The talk by Frank A. Winslow of The Courier-Gazette staff, postponed from last month, will be given after the supper, his subject, "Flirting With Fame," in which Mr. Winslow will tell of many of the celebrities he has interviewed and from whom he has received letters, to be supplemented by data on early baseball days in Warren, when this town had a semi-pro team. The public is invited.

Warren High has made up a few games with teams of other schools but the schedule is not yet complete. Up to date the games are: May 8, Waldoboro at Warren; May 16, Warren at Union; May 23, Rockport at Warren; May 25, Warren at Waldoboro. The condition of ball diamonds everywhere is of course very soft, and hence it seems doubtful if a perfect following of a schedule can be possible.

Mrs. Emma Sheldon and friend Mrs. Justine Noyes of Waldoboro visited over the weekend Mrs. Noyes' sister Mrs. Ivan Starbird at Pittsfield. Mrs. Starbird and two children returned with them and will be guests of her mother Mrs. Benjamin Noyes at Waldoboro for the summer.

Those from Warren who attended the meeting Friday evening of King

Hiram Council at Rockland were William Barrett, Fred Mathews, Oscar Starrett, Alvah Simmons, John Connel, Sr., George Walker, Wesley Spear, Bert Ordway, Chester Hall, Niven Crawford and Sidney Copeland.

Mrs. Irvan Gammon and daughter returned home Friday from the Lucette in Thomaston.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Martha Burgess have reopened their home here after spending the winter in Rockland.

Those from Warren Lodge, I.O.O.F., who attended the meeting of District 15 Saturday evening at Union were Newell Egle, Earl Moore, Percy Bowley, Fred Starrett, Chester Spear, Edwin Gammon, Samuel E. Norwood, E. O. Perkins, Emerson W. Perkins.

Mrs. Alfred Oxton and infant daughter Avis may returned home Saturday from Knox Hospital.

W. F. Teague of North Waldoboro who has been the guest of his daughter-in-law Mrs. Isa Teague is now visiting his daughter Mrs. R. M. Carroll at Union.

Harold Drewett, junior partner in the Cogan & Drewett garage, has bought out Allen Cogan, the senior partner of the firm.

Frank D. Rowe was in Augusta Friday to attend the meeting of the Secondary school principals which was held there.

The four subordinate Granges of Warren are invited to attend Sunday evening the special Grange service at the Congregational Church.

Richard J. Libby, rural agent from the State department of education at Augusta was dinner guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Rowe.

VINALHAVEN

An Arbor Day program was given at Vinalhaven High School last Friday morning, which included songs dedicated to pupils and teachers, and interspersed with readings, which carried out the Arbor Day thought. Elizabeth Gray was pianist.

At the senior Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening, Louise Morton was leader.

Mrs. Wilbur Coombs left Saturday for a visit with relatives in Lincoln.

Mrs. Willis Kossuth was a Rockland visitor Saturday.

Elliott Hall was home from North Whitefield over Sunday.

Mrs. Carroll Gregory and Mrs. Andrew Bennett and daughter Joyce were Rockland visitors Saturday.

C. Meservey P. Ames returned Saturday from Rockland.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvan Stone of North Haven were in town for over Sunday.

Miles Sukeforth was in Rockland Saturday on a business trip.

W. Y. Fossett was in North Haven Monday to take charge of the funeral of Elijah York, Sr.

Mrs. Eliza Swears has returned from Medford, Mass., where she spent the winter months with her nephew Warren Brown.

Miss Pauline Sanborn returned Friday from a visit with her brother Dr. Herbert Sanborn.

The regular meeting of Ladies of the G.A.R. had large attendance Friday night with work on two candidates. Mrs. Gertrude Robbins and Mrs. Rebecca Arey. A spring luncheon was served before the ceremonies by Mrs. Margaret Glidden. Mrs. Gertrude Hall, Mrs. Mertie Carver and Mrs. Eva Smith. After the meeting cards were played and dancing followed, with Ola Carver Ames at the piano. M. V. Chiles was soloist and C. MacIntosh director of quadrilles, and it was a good time for everyone.

Dr. R. H. Thompson of Jamaica Plain, Mass., is returning this week to Vinalhaven.

The district meeting will be held on the afternoon and evening of May 11 with Ocean Bound Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. James Wareham entertained Wednesday at her home in honor of little Carolyn Alley whose birthday anniversary fell on the date near that of her own. The guests were Carolyn Alley, Phyllis Alley, Betty Brown, Carolyn Calder, Muriel Baum, Astrid Rosen. Luncheon was served, the table decorations being pink with the same color scheme carried out in the menu. Games were played, and prizes for the peanut hunt were won by Phyllis Alley and Carolyn Calder.

The young guest of honor was the recipient of several birthday gifts.

J. J. Lane of Providence is in town. Allan Lawry is a patient at Knox Hospital.

John Chiles entertained the Tea Club at cards Friday evening at his home.

Mrs. Elmer Simmers entertained at bridge Thursday.

The Non-Eaters were entertained Friday by Mrs. Alfred Raymond.

All members of Ocean Bound Rebekah Lodge not solicited from for the district meeting May 11, are asked to contribute a pie or cake. Supper at 6 p. m.

Miss Rita Greenlaw has returned from Camden.

Melville H. Brown

Melville H. Brown, 76, a life long and respected citizen of this town, died May 3d, at his home. He was tenderly cared for by his daughter, Mrs. Ira MacDonald, who since the death of Mrs. Brown has with her family made her home with her father. Besides Mrs. MacDonald, he is survived by daughters, Mrs. Forrest Oakes and Mrs. George Wright, also a son Frank Brown and several grandchildren, all of this town.

Mr. Brown was born in Vinalhaven the son of Andrew and Angeline (Colby) Brown. He was of a genial disposition and leaves a large circle of friends. The funeral service was held Sunday at 2 o'clock, Rev. N. F. Atwood pastor of Union Church officiating. There were beautiful floral offerings. Interment was made in Pool's Hill cemetery.

All of the policies of Dictator Stalin have been unanimously approved by his party congress. There's a congress for you!—Grand Rapids Press.

HER POEMS APPEAL

Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, Believer In Pen and Hoe

In a recent issue of the Miami Daily News appeared an article under the "Miami Muse", a fascinating column conducted by Vivian Yeiser Laramore (Poet Laureate of Florida), concerning Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, one of Rockland's most gifted women.

It reads:

"Effie M. Lawrence divides her time between Coconut Grove and Rockland, Maine, drawing inspiration from both. She feels that the two most important implements civilization bequeaths are the pen and the hoe, and she yields both with skill. Her Maine garden is a bower of summer loveliness, rivalled only by the bright blooms of her winter garden at the Grove. With her husband she moved to Florida 10 years ago and immediately became active in the constructive interests of this community. She wrote and directed four of the most stupendous and colorful pageants that have been given in South Florida: 'A Trip Around the World', 'Tour of the Orient', 'Pageant of Progress' and 'Scenes from the Bible'. The last was staged at the El Jardin estate in celebration of the birthday of William Jennings Bryan. It was during her term of office that the clubhouse was built for the Housekeepers' Club of Coconut Grove, one of the oldest and most interesting organizations in Greater Miami. A world traveler, she has lectured in 46 states and many foreign countries. Press notices of her platform work are agreed that she is inspirational, eloquent and convincing. Her poems have appeared in numerous periodicals. There is appeal in her triolets.

IN MINOR KEY

The nest fell from the tree
And still the bird sang on.
A breeze came sunny.
The nest fell from the tree.
And then a minor key
Revealed the fledgling gone.
The nest fell from the tree
And still the bird sang on!

There is dynamic force stored in the four letters that spell 'love'. Sir James tells us the biography of each life should have one chapter titled 'And Then Came Love'. Mrs. Lawrence uses these four letters as a one-word refrain in the roundel.

SUPERLATIVES

Out of the nameless blue,
God's treasure from above,
Comes to the heart of you—Love!

Fragrant as wild foxglove,
Refreshing as April dew,
Gentle as cooling dove,
Love keeps a rendezvous.
Though I may push and shove,
At last it must yield to Love!

The poet's forum says of Mrs. Lawrence: 'She is especially interested in the progress of women in business and the professions.' This interest in others continues to widen the circle of her activities, and is apparent in many of her poems. Here we find her in a spring mood:

SERENADE

The mockingbird moon serenades the moon.
And through the meadow comes the moon.
Here nature ever clings her gayest tune,
And here the gladiolus, brightest bloom, sings.

The stately petals of the almond fling their beauty where the gentle breezes croon.
The mockingbird moon serenades the moon.
And through the meadow comes the moon.

Two stars are mirrored in a blue lagoon.
A moth unfurls a new and downy wing.
While heaven and earth in bated breath commune.
The mockingbird moon serenades the moon.

The Italian verse forms lend themselves admirably to the romantic mood. Mrs. Lawrence makes good use of the

RISPETTO

If I had never seen your face,
Which having seen I can't forget,
And which in every time and place
Abides with me and lures me yet.

I might consider arts and trades,
And dream at times of other maidens.
How can I yield to lesser lures
Once having seen a face like yours?

Our New England visitors have a deep appreciation of the folksongs of the negro, while we who live here the year round are very apt to take them for granted. Mrs. Lawrence attempts a dialect song in

SLUMP DOWN AN' RES'

I has to get up early
An' I loves to see up late,
Jes' speechin' wid de neighbors
An' watchin' dem socate.
All day I helps de white folks
An' tries to do mah bes'.
But when I'm in mah cabin
I jes' slump down an' res'.

When company comes to visit
I holds mah head up high
An' wears de kind ob slippers
Dat kills yo'-purty night.
But de minute day I crosses
De do'-still ob mah nes'
I kicks away dem slippers
And jes' slumps down an' res'.

She has used the 'Temple Song', a 13-line pattern created by Evelyn Watson, to express this mood of adoration:

PSALM OF PRAISE

The palm tree waits with eager, lifted heart
To catch the morning melody of praise;
For ecstasy becomes a living art
When echoed from its vivid, cloistered way.

We hear the heavenly lyre
In rhythm mounting higher
Till heart and soul aspire
To choose this day the more abiding part.

There is an anthem where the palm tree sways;
For once, like cool sapphire,
Its broken fountains were used in glad array
To lead the Saviour on that sacred way
Which was to teach a waiting world to pray.

We can best describe Effie M. Lawrence in the words of Byron: 'A mind at peace with all below, a heart whose love is innocent.'

A COSTUME RECITAL

Daughter of Former Rockland Pastor Gives Remarkable Entertainment Under Methebesec Auspices

A riot of color, fascinating charm and delightful music in a program of unique offerings, marked the costume recital given by Alice Bradley Pooler, noted channonneuse, at the High School auditorium Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Methebesec Club.

Miss Mildred Bidwell who is Mrs. Pooler's exceptionally fine accompanist, seated herself at the piano, and the tender strains of "Long, Long Ago" were heard off stage, gradually swelling in warmth until the artist herself appeared on the stage, wearing a Colonial costume of turquoise blue trimmed with gold lace, and lined with rose silk, and her hat was a tip-tilted leghorn with a pert blue feather; she carried a dainty orchid ribbon muff. Her songs in this group were "Grandma's Advice", with its gay little dance steps, "Ben Bolt" sung with moving simplicity, and "Nelly Bly" one of Stephen Foster's lesser known songs, beautifully sung. Also adding "Shortenin' Bread", now familiar through Jacques Wolf's arrangement, but really adapted from an old Virginia lullaby.

In the next group, America and the British Isles Mrs. Pooler wore an old English holiday costume, while frolic, black bodice over a muslin blouse, a striped skirt and small panniers. Her songs were: "Come, Lasses and Lads", a folk tune used for Maypole dance in old England; "The Little Pig", an old Vermont tune; "Grandma Grunts", a North Carolina song about whistling, in which she had the men-folk in the audience whistling and the women-folk singing; and "Possum Tree", an old southern tune.

Then adding a green silk cape and a black stiff hat over the fruited cap, she gave "The Leprechaun", a fairy song of England. She next took her hearers to Wales and sang "All Through the Night," and for Scotland, "Charlie Is My Darling."

"The Continent" groups might perhaps be called the high lights, so exquisitely were they sung and costumed. "J'ai m'aimé Mieux Jeune Amourette", a song of the Normandy peasants, was her first number. A few deft gestures to change to a green skirt, a muslin apron and a flowered shawl, worn with a dainty lace cap, and her song was "Le Pont d'Avignon", one of the best of the evening. For "Die Spinnerin", a fascinating German folk tune, Mrs. Pooler donned a blonde wig, which was most becoming. For "My Wagon" a Dutch tune, the striped skirt was discarded, disclosing long full bright blue trousers, a blue jacket was pulled over the muslin shirt, a funny dark soft cap over a blonde wig topped Mrs. Pooler's dark hair, a little old pipe stuck nonchalantly in one corner of her mouth, the whole giving the idea of a sturdy Dutch lad. Wooden sabots were used for all the songs of the Continent, the clumpy-clump adding to the effectiveness of the songs and their action.

Mrs. Pooler for her second group of "The Continent," appeared in a peasant costume of Czech-Slovakia. Her first number was a Polish folk tune, "Chalupczka Niska" first sung in English and then in Polish. It took only a few changes to turn to Russia.

"Russian Lullaby," a haunting tender song, was beautifully done, and then changing her headpiece to the festival creation of spangled gauze like a high tiara, she gave the popular dance tune "Advice to Lovers". Italy came next, a green silk skirt, an apron of white, red and green stripes, large hoop earrings, orange shawl over embroidered blouse, a quaint head-dress and the tambourine. Her rendition of "Caro, caro, el mio Bambin" was exquisitely given. Spain was her next choice. She was indescribably lovely in this costume, and her songs, given in Spanish, was spiritedly done.

"The Gay 90's" came next and for this Mrs. Pooler was an intriguing picture, wearing a gown of dotted Swiss muslin, white with a tiny black dot, a black velvet jacket, white feather boa, and a large tilted white hat flower trimmed, a green silk parasol completing the costume. Her songs were a medley of airs popular at that time, Daisy Bell, Sidewalks of New York, After the Ball, The Bower, Good Old Summer Time, etc., many of the audience joining in.

Dressed as a girl of old times, a quaint dress over pantalets, her hair in pigtales topped with a funny round hat, Mrs. Pooler sang "When I was a Lady", an Old English tune, and "Raggy Ann" by Woodin. Her final group were the Christopher Robin songs of A. A. Milne, "Us Two", "Down by the Pond" and "Buckingham Palace", the last number just bringing down the house.

Her sweet voice, her sympathetic gift of expression, her fascinating informality, all combined to make her an artist of the most unusual type.

The daughter of a former Rockland Methodist minister, Rev. Charles W. Bradley, Mrs. Pooler held an informal reception afterward during which she resumed many old time acquaintances.

Miss Ellen Daly as general chairperson was assisted by Mrs. Jane Beach, Mrs. Ruth Ellingwood, Miss Madeline Rogers and others of the club.

DODGES MOUNTAIN AGAIN

Strong Letter By Mrs. Shaw Urges a Public Park
With the Public Not Excluded

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

A letter from Mr. Lermond published in a recent issue of The Courier-Gazette brings up a question which is deserving of serious consideration by the residents of our vicinity.

In the campaign for "booming Maine" as a summer resort for capitalists, all the attractions of our beloved State are set forth in glowing terms, and we are urged to offer inducements to people to come here as summer residents, for the sake of the "improvements" which their money will provide—for us!

We must admit, of course, that there are many kinds of capitalists. While some of them are public spirited and take pleasure in improving and beautifying the country surrounding their summer homes, these are, unfortunately, in the minority. In Massachusetts, in a small town richly endowed with natural beauty, a high, wooded hill afforded wonderful vistas among the trees, and from the paths and driveways there were marvelous views of cultivated fields, beyond which lay the ocean and islands. John Greenleaf Whittier, Lucy Larcom, Oliver Wendell Holmes, other noted writers knew and loved those places, and from them drew inspiration for their nature poems which are so greatly beloved.

Then came the capitalists who discovered an opportunity to commercialize this beauty; and the natives, dazzled by the prices offered for their land, eagerly disposed of every foot they possessed. In a short time all of the hill property was sold.

Cottages were built among the trees; garden spots were cleared; and "improvements" were partly visible from the plains below. Then the land along the shore was acquired by speculators, and the rise in values was marvelous!

Soon the native population was confined to the basin between the hill and the beach. No more picnics in the woods. No more drives up the hill to enjoy the inspiring view. No resting upon the shore after a hot day. Owners of pleasure boats no longer had use for them, since they had no access to the water.

The capitalists were still busy with "improvements," but were any of these available to the townspeople? By no means. At every turn they were confronted with warnings that this was "Private Property" and "Trespassers" would be prosecuted. The natives were at last aroused to complain to the Legislature, and eventually a narrow right of way to the beach was opened between two estates. But now the woods and fields which formerly had made so charming a background for the shore were hidden by high stone walls which protected the wealthy summer residents from the distressing spectacle of the "common people" walking along the sands.

I recall an enthusiastic article on the beauty of the scenery about Penobscot Bay, written by a visitor to this part of our coast. The central thought was that "Rockland possesses the beauty spot of the Maine Coast, but she does not know it." He described in glowing terms our lovely harbor and the view of the islands; the coming and going of the steamers, yachts, and white-winged sailboats. Then he deplored the desecration of such beauty by old decayed wharves, old limesheds, the trestle-work, unsightly buildings and most of all by the erection of business blocks which shut out nearly all of the view from our Main Street.

I was reminded of my childhood days when the grassy embankment leading down to the shore was dotted with wild flowers, and the pebbly beach at the foot of Middle Street was my playground. Only one wharf had then been built in that vicinity, and I used often to rise early and go down to the shore or up on Middle Street Hill to watch the sun rise from the ocean. How I enjoyed those early morning hours, watching the pink and blue, crimson and golden tints which preceded the appearance of the sun above the horizon.

And how both children and grown people enjoyed picnics on Dodge's Mountain, in search of the delicate arbutus blossoms on May Day, or acorns and beechnuts in the fall. We did not have any fancy picnic baskets, but took pillow cases and bags to fill with flowers or nuts.

Chickawaukie Pond and Bear Mountain were also favored picnic grounds, and skating parties on the pond afforded entertainment all winter. No autos whizzed us back and forth; we walked all the way, and enjoyed it as healthy, happy children should.

In regard to "capitalists," Camden has been fortunate in attracting a few wealthy persons who were public spirited enough to help improve that town. But not far from Camden may be found some of a different type. Last summer, for example, a few of us started to visit a spot which we had known and loved for years. Just before reaching the point where we had expected to enjoy a wondrous view, we were confronted by bars across the road bearing a sign: "This is Private Property. No trespassing Allowed."

In New Jersey, where for some years we made our home, there is a reservation of hundreds of acres of land owned by Essex County. This land includes a high hill at whose foot is a winding river with a picturesque waterfall at one point. The underbrush has been cleared away, and iron-framed seats are scattered all through it, as well as little stone ovens where steak, coffee, and other foods may be cooked or heated. There is a large deer park where the dozens of baby deer with their mothers are so tame as to come readily down to the wire fence to be fed and petted by the picnickers.

Great masses of pink and white dogwood blossoms in the spring are worth going miles to see. Then in the fall there are magnificent groups of trees bright with the gorgeous colorings which we see here in Maine. There are a few signs reading: "Do not pick the flowers, but leave them for others to enjoy," and vandalism is practically unknown.

All of this beauty is free to the public, yet the tract is so large that there is ample room for all who desire to avail themselves of the privileges of the park. A broad field is provided for parking, and the immense number of cars is the only indication of the multitude of people scattered through the Reservation. Sundays the army of picnickers is exceptionally large, yet no party interferes with another. What a splendid thing it would be for Knox County to have such a park on Dodge's Mountain, with walks and drives all through it, and combined with these the glorious views of ocean and islands on one side, and the mountains, rivers, and lakes on the other. A wonderful privilege for all of our own people to enjoy, instead of merely a handful of wealthy strangers.

I am most heartily in accord with Mr. Lermond's plea to save our beloved Dodge's Mountain from desecration by the "Money Changers." It would be selling our birthright for a mess of pottage. The rude question, "get out of it" might well be considered "when we hear mentioned the 'improvements' which would be instituted by capitalists. These improvements would be designed exclusively for their own enjoyment, and the townspeople or "peasants" (as we were once styled by some Samoset visitors) would be strictly excluded. The question is, can we afford to throw away such a heritage as this might be, not only for ourselves, but many future generations.

Carrie Burpee Shaw
Rockland, May 5.

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Clark Collamore, 69, widow of Allison Collamore, were held Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist Church with Rev. Forrest P. Fowle officiating. Harbor Light Chapter, O.E.S., attended in a body and performed their funeral rites. The Fred A. Norwood W.R.C., of which Mrs. Collamore was a past president, also was represented by a large delegation. Interment was in Amesbury Hill cemetery; the bearers, Walter Carroll, Frank Salisbury, Roland Crockett and James Miller. There were many beautiful floral pieces.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Oliver of West Newton, Mass., are at "The Birchies," Beauchamp avenue, for the month of May.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Libby of Manchester, N. H., were guests of relatives in town over the weekend.

Clarence Collamore was at home from Castine Normal School over the weekend called by the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Clark Collamore.

Mrs. Manford Ott is staying with her grandmother Mrs. Sarah Prince for the summer while Mr. Ott is employed on a yacht.

Rev. Forrest P. Fowle leaves today to attend the Maine Conference of Methodist Ministers in Portland.

Hon. Obadiah Gardner of Augusta was guest Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Gardner.

Fred Achorn motored to Gorham Friday and on his return was accompanied by his son Earle who remained here over the weekend.

Mrs. Effie Veazie was hostess at the last meeting of the Saturday Night Club.

Mrs. Etta Carter of Brooklyn is the guest of Mrs. Anna Trim, Summer street.

A union service of the Rockport and West Rockport Baptist Churches was held at the latter church Sunday evening. An interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. G. F. Currier, and the Christian Endeavor Orchestra assisted with the music.

Mrs. Elsie Gilbert who has been spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Annie Gardiner, returned Friday to Waterbury, Conn., to resume her teaching duties.

Charles Fremont Andrews

The community was saddened to learn of the sudden death of Charles Fremont Andrews, which occurred Saturday afternoon at his home on Main street.

Mr. Andrews was born at West Rockport, Jan. 30, 1859, son of John and Elsie Eldridge Andrews and lived there during his boyhood days. On Nov. 22, 1880, he was united in marriage to Miss Alice Weed of Rockport. They resided at West Rockport for two years and then moved to Rockland where Mr. Andrews was employed as a quarryman, remaining there 14 years. They then returned to West Rockport, buying a farm at Mount Pleasant. Upon selling that a number of years later they moved to Searsmont remaining there until two years ago when they came to Rockport. Last winter they went to Rockland to stay with their daughter, Mrs. Frank Rokes, returning here three weeks ago. Mr. Andrews had been in ill health for several weeks, but the end came suddenly.

He was a member of Quantabcook Lodge, F. & A. M., of Searsmont and had served for three years as worthy patron of Rosewood Chapter, O.E.S., but on moving to Rockport affiliated with Harbor Light Chapter. For many years he has been an active member of the Grange joining the Mt. Pleasant at West Rockport, and later transferring his membership to the Victor at Searsmont. Being of a social and jovial nature he made many friends with all with whom he met. His surviving relatives besides the widow and the daughter above mentioned are two sons, George of Boston and Edgar of Westboro; two sisters, Marilla Copeland of Warren and Ardella Robbins of Rockland; one brother, Sidney Andrews of West Rockport; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the home today, Tuesday, at 2 o'clock, Rev. G. F. Currier officiating. Interment will be in the family lot at West Rockport.

SOUTH HOPE SUICIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walker of Rockport visited Mrs. May Mitchell and daughter Marion Sunday of last week.

DODGE'S MOUNTAIN

Paul Paulsen formerly of this place is employed on one of the United Fruit Co.'s steamers as mate. It takes 21 days to make the round trip from Boston. The steamship carries both passengers and fruit.

Robin Redbreasts are plentiful and a welcome addition to the community.

Aino Kylander is fitting wood for Luke Brewster.

Will Savage is cutting cordwood for Elden Oxtom.

Joe Allen has a flock of hens which he says lays 16 eggs a day. His wagsish neighbors say he counts a double yolked egg as two.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMan and Luke Brewster called on Adella Veazie Saturday. They found her quite cheerful, although still confined to her bed. She is not able to resume writing her Chimney Corner Chat, but enjoys reading the Dodge's Mountain news. She is being nicely cared for at the home of Mrs. Collamore at West Rockport.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Walker Brewster visited at the Brewster farm Sunday afternoon.

As Sidney Benner was proceeding leisurely up Mountain road hill with a load of wood on a dump cart when a car bore down on him with surprising rapidity, struck his conveyance amidships. The old horse was as surprised as Sid. Casualties included a broken whiffletree and tongue. The woman in the motor car was learning to drive and pressed on the gas instead of the brake.

GEORGES RIVER ROAD

At the church, April 22, a large and appreciative audience listened to an inspiring sermon by Dr. Rounds of Portland, and an able translation of it was given by our pastor Rev. Heino.

Next Sunday's meeting will be at Finntown in the afternoon. In the evening there will be a memorial service to the late Hulda Schilt Voge, at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Schilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harjula, Mrs. Toivo Johnson and daughter Dorothy motored to Quincy, Mass., last week Wednesday. Mrs. Harjula remained to make an extended visit with her father and sister, the others returning Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Johnson celebrated Mr. Johnson's birthday anniversary recently, entertaining at supper Mr. and Mrs. Toivo Hakala of Rockland, Miss Mary Condon and William Harjula.

Miss Esther Harjula, Thomaston High '34, is receiving congratulations on winning the $5 prize in the county contest for the best essay on "Maine Education And Its Needs," given by the Maine Teachers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hill (Signe Rytky) have returned from Massachusetts where they have resided since their marriage last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Sigurd Stein are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

A group of friends surprised Mrs. Hannah Matson on May 1, her 74th birthday anniversary, at Harjula's where she makes her home. Three birthday cakes were served with coffee.

"The Jolly Trollers" 4-H Club girls held a meeting Monday with their leader, Mrs. Ellen Nelson at the schoolhouse. Next meeting will be on May 7, at the home of Mrs. Nelson. Sewing girls will work on aprons and muffins will be made by the girls taking cooking.

“They Stopped
the Pain”

I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets for painful menstruation. I used to feel very weak and had such awful pains that I couldn't stay up. I had to go to bed every month. I read about the Tablets in one of your booklets and I bought a bottle. They stopped the pain.”

Mrs. Cora Currier, Charles Smith and Mrs. Warwick Vose spent Sunday in Pemaquid.

Leroy Whitten has been appointed as permanent clerk in the A. & P. store.

Mrs. Henry Merrill and daughter Miss Mildred Merrill of Hebron spent Saturday with Mrs. Earl F. Woodcock. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Clark, Oscar Gould and Mrs. Roscoe Roudy spent Sunday afternoon and evening at Guy Roudy's in Winslow.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton of Friendship were Sunday guests of Mrs. Althea Thompson.

Mrs. Aaron Clark called on her friend Miss Helen Holman at Oak Grove Seminary at Vassalboro Sunday.

The Garden Club will meet with Mrs. Richard Dunn Thursday at 3 o'clock. There is important business and a full attendance is desired.

May 18 is the date set for the "Spring Frolic" in Watts hall, when Miss Collamore's kindergartners will appear in folk dances, Miss Ney's first grade in a playlet, and an operetta will be presented directed by Miss Alameda Hall. This affair is sponsored by the Nurse Association, and is for the benefit also of Miss Hall's work in the schools. Further announcement of the program will be made.

The Thomaston Board of Trade will hold its regular meeting Wednesday evening at 7.30 in the selectmen's rooms. A large attendance is desired.

The choir of St. John Baptist Church will meet at the church Wednesday evening at 7.30 for a special practice.

The contract and auction party at St. John's parish hall tonight will begin at 7.30.

The Ascension Day Eucharist at St. John's Church Thursday will be celebrated at 9.30 a. m. The evening service, at 7 p. m. will consist of a sacred concert with solos by Mrs. Kathleen Marston, contralto Chester Wyllie, tenor and Charles Wilson, baritone. Duets will be rendered by Mrs. Marston and Mr. Wilson. Following the concert Ascension Vespers will be sung. The sermon will be delivered by Fr. Raps of Wiscasset and the service concluded with Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. "Sweet Sacrament Divine," will be sung by Phillips Franklin. There will be a silver offering. Following the service a buffet lunch will be served in the parish hall, to which the congregation is cordially invited. Deputations from Wiscasset, Hallowell, Newcastle, Camden and Rockland are expected. A new Cope and chancel dossal will be consecrated at the 9.30 service.

Life's Great Secret was the theme of the Sunday morning sermon at the Federated Church, drawn from the life of Enoch in the Old Testament and Paul in the new, with the anthem God's Eternal Love. The sacrament of communion followed Mrs. Sherry and Miss Ruggles gave the flowers, jonquils and forsythia. Religion in Story continued the evening series, Mr. Leach reading The Tao Pearl, the true story of one who sought and found the way.

"ON MY SET"

Uncle Farnham and his entertainers got much praise from the invisible audience Sunday afternoon when they gave 15 minutes of in body over WLBZ. One of the numbers was dedicated to Charles L. Robinson of Rockland, a side-kick of Bert Farnham in the old band days. Farnham proved himself a real humorist in his announcements.

The summer concert by musicians of the Philadelphia Orchestra from Robin Hood Dell in Fairmont Park, Philadelphia, will begin early in July and continue through August. Those who listened to these wonderful concerts last summer will rejoice to learn that this privilege will be extended again. In the Syrian setting of Robin Hood Dell, the distinguished orchestra of more than 100 men has given, for the past four summers, these "symphonies under the stars."

NORTH HAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parsons of Newton Centre returned to their home Thursday after a visit at the home of Mr. Parsons' brother Charles.

Leon Staples, Supt. of Schools of Stamford, Conn., came here Thursday for a visit with his father, C. S. Staples, returning Friday morning.

The rain of Friday has done a great amount of good. It was a real summer downpour. An increasing fire menace has been averted and a reservoir of moisture stored in the soil.

Charles Staples last Friday celebrated his 85th birthday anniversary, and was pleasantly remembered by many friends, who tendered him congratulations and gifts. He is well cared for by his brother with whom he makes his home. An active man he has sawed, split and piled up next winter's supply of wood and every day he may be found at the postoffice awaiting the distribution of the mail.

The following took the boat for Rockland Saturday Ned Dyer, Paton Dyer, Irving Simpson, Federal Warden Smith, Miss Buzzell, Miss Nye, Mrs. Frank Sampson, Emma Parsons.

Julian Frost was a visitor in North Haven Friday.

Mrs. Corydon Brown, Frances and George were in Rockland Friday for dentistry work.

Constance Carver during the winter has added two more very fine hooked rugs to her collection.

Etta Beverage has resumed her position at the Lodge and Haven's Inn for the summer.

The Sisterhood served a fine dinner Friday night consisting of boiled ham, potatoes, greens, cake, pies, tea and coffee, netting $14. A dance was held later and ice cream and cake sold.

Miss Isa Beverage has returned after spending the winter in Hingham and Augusta and reopened her store at Pulpit Harbor, with her usual line of goods.

Mrs. George Quinn was a Rockland visitor Saturday.

In his final broadcast of the season in the Musical Appreciation Hour Dr. Walter Damrosch made earnest appeal to young people to take up the study of some musical instrument, for the pleasure it will mean in the home, or as a member of an amateur orchestra or community band. Also to learn to sing and to become a member of a choir or local choral society. With the leisure of these times, now he said is the grand opportunity for the young people of today, with opportunities their parents never had, to take up these cultural activities. It is certainly gratifying that with our choir, our orchestra, and now the band, North Haven for these past years has long shown interest in these directions.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

A FIGHTING CANDIDATE

Louis A. Jack of Lisbon Falls is well started on a vigorous, hard-hitting campaign against Senator Hale for the senatorial nomination. He isn't pulling his punches, as is evidenced by his speech in Lisbon Falls the other night when he accused Hale of trying to hoodwink both war veterans and small taxpayers by voting for increased payments to veterans, and then voting against increases in taxes to provide funds to pay the veterans. Many of the tax increases, Jack pointed out, were designed to fall on the higher income classes.

Some Republicans criticize Jack because they believe his vigorous method of campaigning against a member of his own party tends to weaken the party structure. They think primaries should be kid glove affairs. That might have been a good argument in the days when the Republicans had a party structure—when they were a united group agreeing on basic principles. It is fallacious reasoning now that the G.O.P. is split among several political philosophies.

There are two main divisions of Republican thought these days—the old guard of the let's-go-back-to-1928 school, and the younger let's-go-forward—and-not-let-the-Democrats-get-the-credit group. When even such a staid Republican publication as the Saturday Evening Post editorially demands, as it has several times during the winter, that the old guard be cleaned out of the party and liberal leadership substituted, it is time for the old line leaders to stop and think. If the Republicans dig themselves out of the pit they dropped themselves into under Hoover, it will be the Jacks and not the Hales who will wield the shovels. The old guard may skin through another election, but for the future either the old guard will die quietly and the party will return to vigorous enlightenment, or the party will die quietly and the old guard be buried with it.—Portland Evening News.

SOUTH THOMASTON

Mrs. Azora Clark is in Rockland where she has employment for the summer.

Mrs. Rena Allen went to Bath Tuesday for a visit with her son Chester, upon his return there after attending his father's funeral.

Ladies' night was observed at West-awesack Grange Wednesday and all officers filled by ladies although a question was raised in the case of the lady officers. Next Wednesday is gentlemen's night and it is rumored that there will be more startling results than ladies' night brought forth.

Mrs. Bertha Hanley left Thursday for Winthrop where she has employment.

The Pine Tree Girls' 4-H Club held an interesting and instructive meeting Saturday with "Darnings" as the project. Mrs. C. L. Sleeper served as judge and prizes were won by Misses Mary Sleeper, Evelyn Ulmer, Winnie Graves and Meredith Mundle in the senior group, and Alice Baum was the winner in the junior group.

A meeting of the Lucky Boys' 4-H Club was held Monday in the primary school building and the following boys received 25 chickens each as a gift from Mr. Little of Rockland: Carl Rogers, Edwin Tyler, John Harlow and Albert Davis. Another meeting will be held Saturday when County Agent Ralph Wentworth will be present and the four other members of the club will each receive 25 chickens, gift from Harry L. Waterman of this town.

The first in a series of weekly dances to be held by Harold Coombs in the Grange hall took place Friday night. The local orchestra known as the Musical Mariners furnished music.

Mrs. Hattie Jackson was guest of relatives in Boston last week, and meanwhile Mrs. Harold Rackliff kept house for Mrs. J. T. Baum.

Mrs. James Mitchell and Mrs. Eugene Gordon attended the training class at Mt. View hall as representatives of the local Farm Bureau. They in turn will pass on to the other members instructions received there at the regular Farm Bureau meeting to be held here Sept. 11 with "Ship Making" as the project.

Eldred Patch, accompanied by Stanton Sleeper, motored to Stoneham, Mass., Friday and returned Sunday. They attended the ball game in Boston Friday between the Red Sox and St. Louis.

WAS COLD IN WARREN

Maurice Wellman Says There

Were 56 Days of Sub-Zero

Last Winter

The Weather Editor recently asked if anybody had kept a record of the sub-zero days the past winter. It seems incredible that there could have been 56—even in Warren, where the temperature runs exceptionally low—but according to Maurice Wellman of that town there were 56 such days, and he definitely names them, together with the hour when the thermometer was read.

He names Nov 16 as the first sub-zero day, and March 23 as the last. Some of the coldest days were: Dec. 28, 26 degrees; Dec. 29, 36 degrees; Dec. 30, 40 degrees; Jan. 22, 24 degrees; Jan. 30, 26 degrees; Jan. 31, 34 degrees; Feb. 6, 26 degrees; Feb. 7, 30 degrees; Feb. 8, 22 degrees; Feb. 9, 40 degrees (coldest day of the winter); Feb. 10, 22 degrees; Feb. 14, 22 degrees; Feb. 16, 20 degrees; Feb. 17, 22 degrees; Feb. 25, 20 degrees; Feb. 28, 20 degrees.

It should be borne in mind that there is a variation of about ten degrees between the temperature in Rockland and Warren, but if Mr. Wellman's records are accurate the Weather Editor would buy a pair of ear-lappers before moving to the Georges River region.

STRAND THEATRE

Lilian Harvey, the internationally famous star, has the leading role in "I Am Suzanne," showing Wednesday. It is the story of a young stage star who falls in love with a youth who is the representative of a declining family of puppeteers. The young star leaves the stage to join the puppet show. The show is a success, but she discovers that the love and praise of her sweetheart is lavished upon her puppet rather than upon herself. Infuriated by his thoughtlessness of her,
she destroys the puppet and returns to the stage. The producer of the show, however, has also engaged the puppet show. The star's manager pleads with the young man to profess his love for the girl who he fears will

STUART-CHAPLES

A simple but attractive spring
wedding took place at Littlefield Memorial Baptist Church last evening when J. Wesley Stuart of Kennebunk and Miss Arlene Elizabeth Chaples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Earl U. Chaples of this city, were united in marriage. A general invitation had been extended to members of both families, and friends, so that the auditorium was filled to overflowing with people eager to express their good wishes to the popular young couple. The groom's father, Rev. Oscar Stuart, officiated, using the double ring service, and he was assisted in the service by Rev.
Chauncey Stuart and Rev. L. G.
Perry, pastor of the church. A background of ferns formed the only decorative feature. Prior to the ceremony "Oh, Promise Me" was beautifully sung by Miss Grace Pierson of Brunswick, a classmate of the bride at the Boston Bible Training School. The wedding marches were played by Miss Olive Bragg.

DOWN THE FAIRWAYS

Season Opens At Rockland
Country Club, and Tournament Is Billed For Saturday

(By J. P. F.)

The Country Club began its season
Saturday. The course is drying out very nicely and should be in good condition within a week or so. Under the capable supervision of Roger Sorrent, the greens are being topdressed and should show up well by the end of the week if good weather continues.

The first golfers to appear Saturday were Henry Buffum, A. C. Jones,
"Soap" Rogers, Homer E. Robinson and Albert Emery. Mr. Buffum showed up with a new set of clubs, but it was noticed that he retained his old putter. On the first green he canned a good putt just to warn the boys that his eye was as good as ever.

Sunday the first pre-summer visitor arrived, Carl Snow of Williamsport, Pa. He expects to be in Rockland for several months, and by the end of that time he will probably be playing in the low seventies.

New golfers of the year are Mr.
and Mrs. Starratt of Thomaston.
Mrs. Starratt was formerly Miss Ethel Crie of Thomaston.

Everybody is wondering what has become of those two veteran pelletpounders, Ned Veazie and "Link" McRae. Three days have passed and they haven't shown up yet.

It is rumored that we are going to play some matches with other clubs this summer. We have some good players, so if the boys get out and practice a lot, we should make a fine showing. Inter-club matches not only foster good-fellowship but advertise our course to outsiders and golfers in other parts of the State.

Here's hoping for a lot of competition!

The caddies were given their numbers last week, and for a couple of hours the professional was swamped with aspirants for the job of bag-goting. He's still wondering where they all appeared from at the same time.

John McLoon was all smiles Sunday. He started the season correctly by turning in a very fine score for this time of year.

Winter rules are in effect. However that didn't stop Al Emery from playing summer rules yesterday. Result—a copious amount of mud in both eyes. He still asserts it's a great game.

Wonder what our scenery-loving tourist-golfers will say when we tell
'em the harbor was frozen over this winter. We'd better reserve it for the day when they assert they made the eighth in three.

This coming Saturday marks the beginning of the weekly handicap tournaments. Now is the time to see the Pro and get your handicap adjusted.

Bill Giendenning, the club's president, was on hand Sunday and turned in a low score, for his first time out.
We think that Bill will go places this year, considering this is his third year at the royal and ancient game.

And meanwhile don't forget the first tournament of the year next Saturday. Come on up Ned!

CAMDEN

James P. Shaw of Brockton, Mass., Henry B. Taylor of Boston and Ralph Locke of Belmont, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilbur.

Lubin Young of New York city has arrived to spend the summer in town.

Mrs. W. R. Gill of Rosindale, Mass., who has been the guest of her daughter, Miss Harriet L. Gill, is now at Lincolnville Beach where she will spend the summer with her daughter Mrs. Guy Carver at Tavern Spa.

The W. H. Stalkers have arrived from New York city and opened their cottage on Dillingham's Point for the season.

Albert Bennett and family have moved into the Julia Pillsbury house on Sea street.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knight have returned from Boston where they spent the winter and opened their home on Mountain street for the summer.

Frank J. Wiley was guest at a dinner at Green Gables Friday night in honor of his 73d birthday anniversary. The party was composed of 40 of his intimate friends and J.
Crosby Hobbs was toastmaster. A very interesting and appropriate piece of poetry written by Gilbert

Patten of New York city and Camden, was read. Following a pleasant evening the company disbanded, extending to Mr. Wiley many best wishes.

Mrs. A. F. Beverage has returned from Yarmouth where she spent the winter with her son Henry Beverage.

Miss Ruth Tewksbury is employed as clerk at the Camden Drug Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pooler and two children have returned to Portland after a visit with her mother Mrs. A. T. Newhall, Sea street.

Several members of Mt. Battle Lodge of Odd Fellows attended a district meeting at Union Saturday night.

Irving Johnson and two friends of Melrose, Mass., spent the weekend at Lake Megunticook.

Miss Dorothy Jones of Mountain street who has been a house guest at Phi Kappa Sigma, U. of M., returned home Sunday.

Henry Beverage and son Donald of Yarmouth were recent guests of his mother Mrs. A. F. Beverage, Sea street.

LUCIUS WATSON HOWE

Lucius Watson Howe, 47, died
Sunday morning in Rockland, following a major operation. Mr.
Howe was born in Camden, son of Willard C. and Bessie (Watson) Howe and for many years had been associated with his father in the Camden Garage. He was a member of Amity Lodge, F. & A. M., Keystone Chapter, R. A. M., Camden Commandery, King Hiram Council, R. &
S. M., and the Masonic Club of Camden. He is survived by his widow who was Mary L. Laird of Rockland, his father W. C. Howe, two sisters Miss Mabel Howe of this place and Mrs. Ella Overlock of Rockport, and two children Betty and Billy. The funeral will be held from the residence today, Tuesday, at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Winfield Witham officiating and burial will be in the family lot in Mountain Street cemetery. A Camden Commandery escort will take part in the ceremony. The passing of Mr. Howe at this time was particularly tragic as Mrs. Howe also underwent a major operation
just previously.

ALBERT WENTWORTH

Albert Wentworth died Saturday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alton French on High street. Mr. Wentworth was born at Seabrook, son of Arad and Cordella Wentworth.
He came here recently from Cottonwood, Arizona, where he had been in business for 20 years. Besides Mrs.
French he leaves another sister, Mrs.
Blanche Hosmer of this place, and two brothers John Wentworth of Anguna, Calif., and B. C. Wentworth of Camden. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, Rev. Albert E.
Luce officiating, and burial was at Seabrook.

ST. GEORGE

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barter visited
Mrs. Barter's mother in Lynn, Mass., recently. Earl saw one of the games

Knox Lincoln Farm Bureau

Agricultural

The spring meeting of the Knox-Lincoln county executive board was held at Lincoln Terrace, Newcastle. Reports by County Agent Wentworth on agricultural projects, Miss Jessie Lawrence on home economics projects and Miss Ruth Clark on club project showed a great deal of work under way. Ralph Conant of Rockland and Mrs. Mildred Ricker of Nobleboro, delegates to Federation meeting, reported on the meeting held during Farm and Home Week. Plans were made for an auto tour to be held this summer and President Henry Keller appointed as a committee on arrangements. E. N. Hobbs, Hope; Ralph Conant, Rockland; Wilson Merriam, Union; J. P. Chapman, Nobleboro and Mrs. Nina Carroll, Rockport. Arrangements were made for the annual meeting to be held in Lincoln County. In charge will be Lon Jewett Head Tide; Vellis Weaver and C. N. Light, Waldoboro; Mrs. Sidney Evans, Wiscasset; Mrs. Mildred Ricker, Nobleboro; Mrs. Norris Waitz, Damariscotta.

Financial arrangements for the year were discussed by George Lord, assistant director, Orono. Miss Estelle Nason, State home demonstration agent leader, spoke on "Increasing Our Extension Activities."

Harry Waterman's pen of hens at the egg laying contest is still going strong. The past week one pen tied for second place, with 66 points, and the other was fifth with 62.

The hatchery report for March 1934 covering 645 commercial hatcheries with capacity of 45,921,000 eggs indicates a decrease of 10.3% in the number of eggs set and a decrease of 6.3% in the number of baby chicks hatched. There is a probability that hatchlings in April will be smaller than those of April last year.

Among the agricultural exports for the United States for the year ending June 30, 1933, fruit ranked second being exceeded in value only by raw cotton. Fresh apples were by far the most important single item. The farm value of the U. S. apple crop for 1933 is reported as being about $93,000,000.

4 H Club Notes

April 28 was a banner day for the Lucky Boys 4 H of South Thomaston. The leader, Mrs. A. F. Sleeper, being ill, Mr. Sleeper took charge of the expedition and loaded his road truck with boys and drove to the poultry farm of Harry Waterman where Mr. Waterman conducted them all over his "Egg Plant" as one boy expressed it, answering countless questions and carefully explaining everything to the party. The boys were excited over seeing 4000 baby chicks, and enthusiasm for chick raising ran higher. Mr. Waterman gave each boy a chick as a souvenir and to five of them he gave wire runs. He also suggested proper foods for baby chicks and gave the boys much other valuable information. May 12 he will give 100 chicks to the club.

There are eight boys in this club and after today's visit even George

MILES OF AZALEAS

Diana Pitts Paints a Picture Which Almost Exudes the Tropical Fragrance

Azalea time in Mobile is comparable to cherry blossom time in Japan or to tulip time in Holland.

The azalea trail is a flower lined route through Mobile's residential section in which, it is estimated, that "38,000 azalea plants, varying in size from small ones to bushes 80 feet in circumference, display their brilliant and gorgeous colors."

We left New Orleans to spend two days enjoying the wealth of beauty that the Gulf Coast always displays at this time of year. Dogwood is in bloom through the woods, wild pear trees shake their white petals to the breeze, and peach trees in bloom show a delicate, artificial beauty.

After a 200-mile ride we drove down the streets of Mobile where azaleas on either hand flaunt their brilliant blossoms in defiance of depression.

Let me tell you a little of the history of the azalea before we ride to the Bellingsrath Gardens, which are the mecca of all garden lovers of the country. As early as 1750 Pinse Langlois brought to Mobile from his grandfather's home in Toulouse, France, three varieties of this plant—pink, purplish red and white.

The plant thrived well in this semi-tropical climate of Bienville's French colony. In 1763 Mobile was ceded to Great Britain and under the British flag the azaleas bloomed. In 1780 the Spaniards got possession of this ancient city and the Spanish rulers so admired this gorgeous flower that they transplanted clippings from Langlois' original bushes to their own estates.

During the war of 1812 Mobile was captured from the Spanish and then the Americans began to plant azaleas there.

Some of the oldest plants, said to be over 100 years old, are to be found at Spring Hill College, west of the city, where students walk in a maze of riotous color along its brilliant campus paths.

We turned, at length, from Mobile to drive to the Bellingsrath Gardens, 22 miles away. These gardens are ranked as one of the ten greatest of the world, and, in azalea time this seems no exaggeration. They cover over 30 acres of ground and are fortunately situated on a bluff overlooking the junction of three rivers. On either side of its miles of paths, huge azalea bushes in full crimson bloom strike the eye. They are mirrored in the river, and in the artificial lake, they form the end of long vistas across the estate, and they are close at hand as you admire rustic steps and flagstones.

To blend with these are numberless bushes of camellia japonica, and white and pink wisteria, forming a pleasing contrast to the dark green background of pointed cedars and magnolias. Over all this are hundreds of huge live-oaks hung with Spanish moss, characteristic of this section.

The lesser flowers, too, are not lacking and, throughout every rock garden, and bordering the Is-Aux-Oies River, are flowering beds of lantana and huge velvety pansies, and pale plumago, and sweet alyssum; while the sweet olive trees and wild honeysuckle fill the air with fragrance.

In the midst of this flowering wilderness, overlooking the river, is the home of the Bellingsraths, as simple and unpretentious as is Anne Hathaway's cottage in rural England. The massive oak trees give it shade and keep it comfortably cool even in the heat of summer; and the azalea bushes for miles about give it an incomparable view.

It was sunset time as we rode slowly away, our eyes still feasting on the beauty of the place. A low crescent moon hung over the azaleas by the river, the Spanish moss floated gently in the oak trees and high in their branches the mocking birds were singing—just as they had sung through the centuries when only the Indians had explored the wild shores of the Gulf.

At The High School

(By the Pupils)

The junior high assembly program Wednesday morning was arranged by Miss Thompson. Leona Powers conducted devotional exercises and announced the program which consisted of: Harmonica solo, "Big Tunes," Elizabeth White; vocal solo, "Puddin' Head Jones," Richard Adams; solos, "Blow the Man Down," "They Out Down the Old Pine Tree," and "Oh Dem Golden Slippers," Robert Hills; vocal solos, "The Boulevard of Broken Dreams," and "Over Somebody Else's Shoulder," George Huntley; instrumental trio, "Humoresque," and "Throw Another Log on the Fire," Richard Ellingwood, Richard Marsh and Charles Toner; dialogue, "Hank and Hiram, Jokesters," Kingsley Strout and Earl Sukeforth; guitar duets, "The Blue Danube Waltz," and "Where the Blue of the Night," Lillian Young and Leona Hickman.

Maudie Peterson assisted with the clerical duties in the office last week.

Principal Blaisdell attended the Principals' Conference in Augusta Thursday and Friday. Addresses included those by Gov. Brann, Commissioner, Bertram Packard and Dr. J. R. Crawford of the University of Maine. The finals of the Spear State of Maine Prize Speaking Contest also took place during this conference.

Reports from two to three thousand words in length on scientific subjects have been completed in the general science classes and the following have been deemed worthy of special commendation by Mr. Sezak: "Construction of Dams," John Blithen; "Construction of Wells," Elzada North; "Gutenberg and Printing," Jane Wilson; "Study of Eclipses," Barbara Perry; "The Solar System," Richard Harden; "Madame Curie and Cancer Research," Dorothy Munro.

The urge of spring, felt by members of Mr. Levensaler's English classes, has been expressed in these poems:

O lovely springtime of the year
Send forth your new born hopes of cheer
Waft the fragrance of your flowers,
Sprinkled with the tinkling showers
Through the clear fresh air of dawn,
Springtime, sing your glorious song!
Jane Welch, 37.

The song birds in their meetings
Have called out Nature's greetings
To the splendid God of flowers,
And to the April showers.
In answer to their call,
Guarding the path of Nature's hall
Spring flowers stand—sentinels all.
Parker Jackson, 37.

A large pen and ink drawing, on exhibition in the Latin room, is attracting wide attention. The artist is Stanley Farham of junior high, who, upon request, drew the picture for Latin students in the senior high. The subject of the drawing is a coun-

Here's a trio of famous stars in lines vitally affecting what is of great importance to all—health. At the upper left is Oscar, noted maitre-d' hotel of the Waldorf-Astoria, New York. The picture in the upper right shows Max O. Cullen, of the National Livestock and Meat Board, Chicago, who is demonstrating an artistic way of dressing meat for cooking. The white-aproned gentleman below is William B. Ahern, supervising instructor of the Bartenders' college, operated by the New York bartenders' union to instruct men in the proper manner of mixing and serving drinks. They appear in the film "We're in the Money," which will be shown in Temple hall, Rockland on Wednesday night, May 9 for members of the food and beverage industries here. No admission.

Twenty girls reported to Coach Tower during the first week of practice of the girls' track team. Helen-amay Mahoney, one of the high-point girls of last year's team, has been elected captain. Vivian Foster is manager, and Frances Storer, Helen Condon and Arlene Havener have been chosen to assist in recording, scoring and taking care of the apparatus. Veterans of last year include Lucille Rankin, Helenamay Mahoney, Vivian Foster, Helen Condon and Vernet Morgan. Half of the group are freshmen who are showing enthusiasm and interest and should make good material for the team.

With a large squad made up almost entirely of untried material, prospects for boys' track this spring are not as rosy as desired. New suits for the entire squad have been ordered and should be on hand for the annual Morse Meet scheduled for this week. The interclass meet which was to have been held Friday at the Trotting Park was postponed on account of weather.

Matineus, May 5.

Funeral services for Alphonzo H. Crouse who died April 23 were conducted at his late residence in Friendship, with Rev. Mr. Lewis officiating. The bearers were Scott Carter, George Carter, James Murphy and Melvin Simmons.

Mr. Crouse was born in Cushing Feb. 2, 1860, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Judson Crouse. His marriage to Hattie Richards of South Thomaston took place in 1895. He followed lobster fishing for many years. A devoted husband, a kind neighbor, and an honest and upright citizen, he will be missed by all who knew him. He is survived by the widow, two brothers, Edward Crouse of Rockville and William Crouse of Rockland, and one sister, Mrs. Cora Reardon of Rockland. Burial was at Friendship.

WIDOW, OR WIDOWS?

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:— I noted in a recent issue of your paper, where three sisters were widows of Civil War veterans. Very interesting, but it would have been still more interesting if they had all been widows of the same veteran. But say! Did you ever hear about the one "sister" who was the widow (or should I say widows) of eight World War veterans? Yes! And pulling down a widow's pension for each one of her departed loves. There was a widow (or widows) as was a widow (or widows) Cael. Matineus, May 5.

J. LEROY ALLEN
Death of So. Thomaston Man Who Had Mined For Gold and Managed Orange Grove

J. LeRoy Allen, 79, died suddenly April 27 in South Thomaston. The funeral was Monday afternoon at the home. Rev. J. C. MacDonald of the First Baptist Church, officiated and burial was in Ash Point cemetery.

Mr. Allen, who had widely travelled, was confined to his home for three years by a stroke. Afflicted with asthma when a young man he sought relief in the West in 1876. He spent 20 years gold mining in Colorado and in the Black Hills. He was an amalgator, and accepted a flattering offer from the Ashanti Goldfields Corp., to go to the west coast of Africa where he remained two years. His friends never tired of listening to his tales of adventure in a section of the world where there were only about 150 whites among 8,000 natives.

Mr. Allen was born in South Thomaston and was married to Miss Serena Stonefield in Leeds, South Dakota, who survives him. Of five children only one survives, a son, Chester L. Allen of Bath; and Mrs. Allen has come to Bath to make her home with him.

Mr. Allen at one time owned and managed an orange grove in Florida and also engaged at one time in mining operations in Mexico. After a life time of travel he returned East and in 1910 became superintendent of the Broker & Stone Co., in Quincy, Mass., and some years later returned to his native town to happily pass his declining years.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge in South Thomaston, was a former Knight Templar and a constant attendant of the Baptist church.—Bath Daily Times.

NOSTALGIA
Always on evenings
Such as this
Leaning beyond
The precipice
Leaning beyond
The spruces, we Gazed in half-wonder
On the sea.
And marked how ships
Along the bay
Had all their white sails
Tucked away.
And how the town
Save for one light
Was sleeping dimly
In the night.
Oh tide, Oh foam,
Oh lashing spume,
I wish once more
That I were home,
Leaning against
The night, to be Happy again
With sky and sea,

The NASH PARADE
a Million Cars Long!

... Nash Dealers Everywhere are Giving a MILLION DEMONSTRATIONS in 30 days!

AT the very beginning of Nash Motors, C. W. Nash said, "I will never build a cheap motor car." Today—after having built more than a million fine cars upholding that pledge of quality—C. W. Nash again says, "I will never build a cheap motor car." The Nash policy continues to be... Quality first, last and all the time!

And now, to celebrate the building of a million cars, and to reveal the new heights of quality attained in the 1934 Nash and its companion car, the new Lafayette—Nash dealers everywhere are spreading themselves to demonstrate these cars to a million people in 30 days!

A million rides in a month... A million revelations of Nash Twin Ignition power and the "jeweled movement" smoothness of Lafayette... A million demonstrations of superior comfort... of a real improvement in clear-ventilation... of easy handling... of safe control... of results that verify the very latest in engineering and the best of both quality and workmanship.

We invite you to drive either a Nash or a Lafayette, or both. Learn first-hand what it means to an automobile when a manufacturer carries out a life-long quality policy to the letter, and to the tiniest detail.
